

NFL

Product Manager, Video | June '18 - Present

I am currently responsible for the maintenance, optimization, and execution portions of NFL video and livestream. Previously worked on NFL.com, with successful integrations including Minute, WSC, Stanza, Parse.ly, and Adobe Target, resulting in numerous improvements to internal KPIs by over 5%

CANCERBASE

Product Manager | Aug. '16 - June '18

Lead product manager for mobile application, SideEffects. I was responsible for creating the product roadmap, strategy, and vision, as well as coordinating with a small team of 3 engineers and 1 designer. I helped implement an AGILE environment for the engineering team, and successfully pitched and landed SideEffects in numerous clinical trials.

VITERBI SCHOOL OF ENG.

Teaching Assistant | Aug. '16 - June '18

Developed lesson plans, ran lab sessions, and graded over one hundred students. Courses taught included Intro to Web Development, PHP and MySQL Databases, and PHP Frameworks.

HULU

Product Lifecycle Intern | May '17 - Aug. '17

Working cross-functionally with the marketing and product teams, I executed welcome series product testing to see the impact of highlighting customer care for new users. Additionally, I collaborated on the development of a multi-million dollar onboarding campaign with the USPS.

KOBE INC.

Project Manager | Dec. '15 - Aug. '16

As intern to Kobe Bryant himself, I created and managed media in a variety of mediums, from written to web to mobile. Projects have been implemented in advertisements and on the web. Project recently won at 2018 Oscar's.

CORNERSTONE ONDEMAND

Product Intern | Jan '16 - April '16

Under an AGILE environment, I worked directly with customers, optimized the roadmap by identifying their pain points, and headed Google Analytics integration across 25 million client platforms.

GOAL: make something meaningful.
